RETIRING SCHOOL TRUSTEES DECISIVELY RE-ELECTED

Considerable interest was manifested in Monday's election for school trustees, and in fact the second largest vote in the history of the district resulted.

Two vacancies occurred on the board, Messrs. R. W. H. Pinkney and W. A. Beebe retiring. They both were nominated and contested the election against Tom. J. Williams and John North, mine workers' candidates. The contest on Monday was keen, but the result was no doubt disappointing to those responsible for running opposition to the retiring experienced candidates.

Nine hundred and nine-eight votes were cast, as follows: Pinkney 368, Beebe 288, North 161 and Williams 156, with twenty-five ballots spoiled. Beebe and Pinkney were declared re-elected.

Both Beebe and Pinkney have had considerable experience as trustees and have served the district faithfully and well. In fact, Mr. Beebe has been connected with school trusteeship here continually for upwards of twenty years, which is a record to be proud of. Twenty years ago, he was the "whole cheese," being sole trustee, secretary-treasurer and manager of the school, for which services he was remunerated by the elaborate fee of around $75 a year. At that time the town's population was in the neighborhood of four hundred, with a two-room school to be cared for. Today we have a school of eleven rooms working under the administration of a board of five, together with a salaried secretary-treasurer, janitor, etc. Mr. Pinkney is one of the youngest members of the board, who has taken great interest as a trustee in the past and who can be looked upon to continue as a useful official.

The personnel of the board for 1930 will be the same as last year, namely: W. H. Chappell, C. J. Tompkins, R. W. H. Pinkney, W. A. Beebe and John Angus McDonald.

Two vacancies on the town council were filled by acclamation, and the council personnel for the year will be: Mayor J. H. Farmer, Councillors W. McVey, Mark Sartori, R. Perressini, W. A. Beebe, Joseph Kubik and Evan Morgan.

IT'S TIME HOCKEY WAS BETTER SUPPORTED

Blairmore will have a game here some time next week, against Lethbridge or Bellevue, in the final of the Southern Section of the Alberta senior hockey for the right to play against the winners of the Calgary senior hockey league.

The Blairmore team has spent most of their time, and also of their money to the extent of some $250, in trying to give the fans of Blairmore hockey this fair?

The boys will sell tags for this game. Buy one and help them.

WHAT THE LO.O.F. IS DOING

The following figures from statistics of the LO.O.F. throughout the world are exceedingly interesting, covering a period of 78 years: Initiations in subordinate lodges 5,731, 572, members relieved 459,695, members decreased 763,228; total amount of relief $261,453,908.98; total revenue $692,275,892.16. There is one sovereign grand lodge, 9 quasi-independent grand lodges, 70 grand lodges, 58 grand encampments, 34 department councils of patriots, militant, 15, 464 subordinate lodges, 3,561 subordinate encampments, 10,312 Rebekah lodges, 1,022,141 Rebekah lodge members, 2,463,177 members of the order. A total sum of $6,593,158.45 was paid out in relief in the year 1928.

Eat, drink and be merry today—for tomorrow you may diet.

During the past two years, as in the past, we will do our utmost to fill the offices of trustees to the best of our ability.

Yours respectfully,

FIRST YEAR UNIVERSITY WORK IN COLEMAN HIGH SCHOOL

The subject of a consolidated high school has again been broached by a Blairmore correspondent to the Lethbridge Herald. It will be of general interest to the public to know that Coleman high school has been for the past year or more giving first year university work, so that students have facilities equally as good or even better than other schools in the Pass.

Grade XII students, moreover, have given a good record of their studies, and have shown a remarkably high average in exam. results.—Coleman Journal.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

During the past six years the foreign population in Paris has increased by more than 200,000, an official report reveals.

In a personal message to Mrs. Larkin, the King expressed the sympathy of Queen Mary and himself for the loss of Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canada's high commissioner.

The Austrian Government has established a consulate-general at Ottawa for Canada and Newfoundland, and Dr. Ludwig Kleinwachter has been appointed to the post.

Four Swedish Lapland have petitioned the government for help against invading reindeer herds belonging to the Nenad Lapps. In many places the peasants' entire winter supplies of meat and grain have been destroyed.

What is believed to be the first flight from Canada to Mexico City, was made by Flight-Lieut. N. C. Ogilvie-Frost, of the Royal Canadian Air Force, who landed at the southern capital after a two weeks' flight from Montreal on a light aeroplane.

Raymond Poincaré, former French premier, has returned to Paris from southern France completely recovered from his recent operation, resting and feeling fit. He has been mentioned as a possible minister of finance in a reorganized Tardieu cabinet.

Great Britain's post office accounts for the past year record a profit of nine million pounds sterling. The telephone service shows a surplus of half a million pounds, while the telegraphs record a deficit of three quarters of a million pounds.

An appeal that the Dominion Government contribute one-third of the excess cost of relief employment, the remaining two-thirds of such excess being met by the provincial and municipal authorities, was made by Mayor Bert Wimp, of Toronto, to the Hon. Peter Hennan, Minister of Labor.

A SIMPLE TREATMENT FOR CHILDREN'S COLDS

Cold in the head is very common in this time of the year, and unless the victim is young, a cold is prone to lead to serious consequences. To relieve all congestion of the system is the first step in treating colds, especially in children or adults. For the very young, Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal means of doing this. Containing no narcotics or stimulants, these drugs sooth the child's fretfulness, relieve its suffering and ensure convalescence.

Baby's Own Tablets are without an equal for relieving indigestion, constipation and colic. They check diarrhoea; break up colds and simple fevers; promote heat-giving sleep and allay the dread of the terrible period easy. The Tablets are the one medicine that a mother can give her little ones with perfect safety as they are guaranteed to be free from injurious drugs. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Motor Truck Licenses

Saskatchewan Government Is Making New Regulations Has No Desire To Hamper The Farmer

The Saskatchewan Government has decided to place the motor license taxes under the administration of the Ministry of Highways, saying of the opinion that the administration thereof logically belongs to the Highway Department. It has been held hitherto by the Provincial Secretary. This intention will be implemented at the next session of the Legislature.

The Minister of Highways has recommended the regulations relative to motor truck licenses. He points out that by the revision of the car license fees the revenue from the car license fees will be reduced this year to the extent of approximately $600,000.00. The change in the truck license fees was inaugurated with the purpose of reducing revenues to the farmer, who is asked to insure that trucks used for commercial purposes would pay their share for usage of the roads of the province. The new regulations, based on the Ontario regulations, begin on a slightly lower scale throughout than the fees charged in Ontario. The new fees are also lower than those charged in the Province of Alberta, and many other provinces and states.

Out of 250 truck license applications received, 249 were registered at the same fee as formerly, and 25 registered for a fee only exceeding last year's rate by $2.00 or $3.00, that is 27 per cent. The fee increase shows that no increase has taken place and 10 per cent shows an increase of $3.00 or less. It is also estimated that the new fees will affect own trucks also over private cars and profit by the $5.00 reduction in car licenses.

It was not the desire of the Saskatchewan Government to in any way hamper the farmer in the use of trucks by increasing license fees materially, in view of the fact that the majority of the municipalities; however, the Government has investigated and ascertained that approximately 85 per cent of the trucks are used in the cities of the province and province, namely, 16,050 out of a total registration of 18,669. A large number of these are farm trucks used in the course of their business, and it was thought that by moving the one-half yearly license fee from October 1st as formerly, to September 1st, as used in the newer provinces, this would furnish the small yearly license fee for a great number of the farmers. Upon further investigation, however, the Government has decided at the conclusion that this may not meet the situation, and it is anxious that nothing shall be done that will in any way tend to hamper the producer.

It was thought that a number of trucks used in the cities contribute the provincial license tax, gasoline tax as well as the city tax, and the city tax is a heavy tax on the citizens of the city or make any use of the provincial roads. It is felt that some measure of relief should be granted to the producer, and with regard to the farmer, although such relief apparently is granted in many of the other provinces or the state, the same is not the case, as the information at hand shows.

While they are anxious to secure as much revenue as possible for road purposes, they feel that such farm trucks as are used in the course of their business are not to be taxed, as the truck or her truck has not proceeded beyond the boundaries of the town or city during the course of the year, such owner will be entitled to a reduction of the difference between the amount charged under the new regulations in excess of the regulations formerly in effect, and that upon any bona fide farm truck, due to the fact that either the truck or her truck has only been used during the year, exclusively for farm purposes, that such farm will be entitled to a reduction of amount charged under the new regulations over the previous regulation. The minister pointed out that should a farmer have a truck for other than farm purposes, such as graveling work, he will in most cases, under the new regulations, pay very little, if any, tax, and will be treated under the commercial classification.

It is the intention of the minister to collect data during the year on the purposes for which trucks are used in the province, this data will be incorporated on the application for the license and to seriously consider issuing a different motor license plate for trucks used in the course of business for the year 1933, in order to assist in preventing any breaches of the regulations.

He has also ascertained that many trucks from outside the boundaries of the provinces have hitherto been engaged in work in the province, such as graveling work, and may be liable to tax to the province. The minister is considering licensing all trucks coming into the province to do work in competition with the truck owners in the province. The regulations under the motor vehicles act with regard to keeping to the right of the road, speed, etc., particularly with regard to grain trucks, will be rigorously enforced this year.

New British Dirigible

The new British airship, R-100 will not be down to Canada until the spring. Whether the giant vessel will be kept in its hangar in the meantime is doubtful. The suggestion is being put forward that she should make a comprehensive tour of Europe, which would enable her crew to gain further experience in the handling of the great vessel.

Rattlesnake serum used in the United States is largely imported from Brazil.

The presence of the little shop in the front of the old house did not change the old hours in Charman's living room. As a child, the contents of the high boy drawers had fascinated her. Now she regarded them as something that helped to give her grandmother a few comforts. Had any one suggested that they might be better off in a smaller place, she would have been as horrified as would Grandma herself. The view from her own window amply repaid her for the care of so large a room. With an unerring sense of beauty she clung tenaciously to the fine pieces of old mahogany with which her great-great-grandfather had furnished her family mansion, smiting with inward scorn at the gold-en oak and mission furniture that was the pride of some of her friends and neighbors.

Grandma, it is true, rather lacked this adoration of the antique. She gazed rapturously at the ma's order catalogues from Chicago, and was particularly enamored of an ornate oak hat tree; while Charman, knowing that there was no possibility of her grandmother making such a rash purchase, smiled indulgently, and let the old lady dream.

"If only the school committee decides to give me Dist'rct Four!" she sighed a dozen times a day, and planned how every penny she could save should go toward beautifying the old home. Even as it was, tourists (they had such things in Wickfield now), would sometimes stop and admire the gilded pineapple above the door, despite the fact that its coat of goldleaf was slowly vanishing before the snow and ice of the New England winters.

Charman had been thinking of the pineapple this very morning, and wondering what it would cost to gild it, when the doctor sat down upon the steps. As his eyes came back from the syringa bush and met her own, she couldn't almost apologetically: "I know it's too big a house for Grandma and me, but..."

"Why not take a 'boarder'?" he broke in. "You've plenty of empty bedrooms, goodness knows."

Charman was silent for a moment, letting the thought sink in.

"But you see," she began dubiously, "I couldn't manage the meals—not if I got the school, anyway. As it is, it's a scramble to fix a lunch for Grandma, or was when I wanted to Normal. If only some one wanted just a room—but there! nobody in Wickfield does or ever will."

This doctor seemed to be lost in thought. Then he looked up at Charman and smiled. She made a pretty picture, there on the top of the low step-ladder. Her old blue linen, though faded with many washings, still did nothing to bring out the blue of her dark-bringed eyes; and her cheeks were flushed.

"A penny for your thoughts, Doctor," she said.

The old man shook his head.

"They're not the sort I'd prescribe for an innocent-looking miss like you," he answered, "and yet," (a sudden twinkle appearing in his gray eyes) "if I think I'll fit them in, I'm considering my debt with whom Ikey chap hadn't run away with you."

The girl threw back her head and laughed, adding much to the charm of an already charming picture.

"But you see," she at last asserted, "though I wouldn't breathe it to the public, there are no likely chaps in Wickfield."

"No?" questioned the doctor, frowning. "What's the matter with George K.'s boys? Or Jimmy Benjy? Jim's a splendid fellow, or I never knew one; and some one told me (either a little bird or Lizzie Baker)..."

Charman laughed again.

"You surprise me, Doctor Howe—a close-mouthed man like you listening to gossip! But I don't mind my nose getting a whiff of aathenee-wearing. Of course George K.'s boys are splendid; but they're away from home, and two of them are married anyway. As for Jim, I can't just see him in the light of that long Lohinchair. He'd never dare slope w/any one without first asking permission of his mother."

"And is filial devotion a quality to be scorned?"

Although there was mirth in the doctor's eyes, Charman's face sobered.

"Sometimes," she answered quietly, "sometimes, Doctor Howe, I think it is—when one carries it as far as Jim does. Can I imagine his asking a girl to marry him without first dissecting her with his mother. Do you think any self-respecting woman would stand for that?"

The indignation of these last words brought the doctor's eyes suddenly and disconcertingly to hers.

"You've been—dissected?"

Charman blushed.

"You know entirely too much," she said severely, "and anyway, I don't see how we reached this subject. We began with boarders, and..."

"Whch is what I came for," interrupted the doctor. "You see, Charman, my dear, I'm getting old."

"Not 'you,'" laughed Charman, and coming down from the ladder she seated herself beside him on the steps.

"Nothing 'true,'" he went on soberly. "It would be most difficult to be sure about that. I did once. I feel more tired after a long day's work, but—I'm not ready to give up yet."

"I should say not!" Charman responded, slipping a comforting hand into the old man's. "What should we do without you?"

He smiled.

"You'd do very well—probably better than you do now. Old folks are set in their ways, and ways are changing all the time you know. But I need help. I need an assistant—a young, up-to-date assistant.

"Well, starve—in Wickfield. We wouldn't have him near us."

"Not even to help me out?"

The girl looked up, suddenly serious.

"You really mean it, Doctor?"

"Yes, I mean it. I'm getting tired, Charman, though I haven't been willing to face the truth. What I stopped here for, my dear, was to ask if you'd take the boy to board."

"The boy? You mean a new doctor?"

He laughed at her startled face.

"Why not? You've room enough and to spare. If you can't manage his meals he could get them at the Central House, I suppose; but I don't think he'd enjoy living there. Would you?"

Charman shuddered at the idea, but asked: "What will Grandma say?"

"She'll agree to anything you think best," smiled the doctor. "I know Grandma! Well, dear child, you think it over. I don't want to put any more burdens on your shoulders; but he'll pay well, and—Look here! He's coming up on Saturday. I'll drop him in casually and let you look him over."

"I shan't need to look him over if you recommend him," she said as they arose. "But of course, he'll want to look at us! If he could get his dinner downtown town I think I could manage the rest. As for Grandma..."

"Charman," called the old lady from her window, "what on earth are you two talking about all this time? You tell the doctor to step in a minute before he goes. I want to ask him about my rheumatism."

CHAPTER II.

As the doctor went within at Charman's call, Charman lifted her little stepladder and carried it back to the woodshed where it belonged. She was an orderly soul, but this morning she was only half awake, however, because she had to see if everything was in its place. Her thoughts were not centered upon woodsheds, stepladders, or the nest pile of kindlings in the corner. She was thinking of the doctor's confess on about getting "fired." What he meant, of course, was getting old. The idea brought a strange, sick feeling to Charman's heart. What would life be without it?

The girl sank down on the side steps and looked off of Charman's hill—distant hills—hills so softly blue that they seemed to her imaginative vision to be wrapped in a chiffon veil. She was thinking: "Of course I'll board him, even if it's a bother. It'll help the doctor and there's nothing that would fit for Doctor Howe—just nothing."

Her eyes strayed to the orchard where a small rustic table was built beneath a tree. The doctor had built it years ago. How many times had he joined her at her doll tea parties? she mused. What hadn't he done for her, and for all other Wickfield youngsters?

How he loved them—the children! It seemed to Charman when she grew old enough to learn that this dear friend had lost his best beloved in a cruel accident when he was only a boy. He had been the only child and the other children in the neighborhood had been to him, in a measure, the babies that might have been his own. In those days his buggy was always full of children. "The more the merrier," he would say, stopping to take in the boys and girls on their way to school. Pandora, his old white mare, seemed of her own accord to "slow up" at sight of any small figure trudging along the road. Pandora was in pasture now, an honored boarder, and, except when the snow snowdrifts were too deep, the doctor travelled in a "flivver." His was the first automobile to be seen in Wickfield. "Indeed, when he drove for the first time and waved a hand," Grandmother had always said, "from the window in his sedan."

"It doesn't seem quite right," she said to Charman. "What's the world coming to, I'd like to know? I do cleave, I wouldn't have thought it if Edward Howe!"

A certain man announced that he was marrying a widow.

"I could never be a widow's second husband," his fr'end said bluntly.

The newly engaged man smiled.

"Well," he murmured, "I'd much rather be her second than her first."

Fortune-teller: Do you want to know about your future husband?

Visitor: No. I want to know something about the past of my present husband for future use.

China's Real Menace

Famine Takes Toll Of Millions Of Lives Every Year

We hear often of China's civil wars, but only occasionally do dispatches come through which tell of real horror which can hardly be imagined even by those who have never been there. This famine, however, has always been thousands of people starving in China; there are today, Famine is remorseless and unending, a grim and horrible spectre which stalks the land, driving the people through the earth and thus causing more death than there were births. This is the toll until now.

Although the birth rate was satisfactory, he explained, the population continued to diminish through disease, which caused more deaths than there were births. This is the toll until now. The Chinese officials recognized the peril and took energetic action against sleeping sickness and all tropical infections.

Today it is the Provinces of Shensi and Shansi, which are in the grip of famine. In the past twelve months one-third of their population of 6,000,000 has perished of hunger, and another 1,000,000 is listed as dead before June. This is the toll. It is impossible to transport supplies into these regions even when they are available, for the peasants have smashed their carts for firewood and eaten their horses and mules. Over an area of 2,000 square miles a doomed people subsist on roots and bark, chaff and elm leaves.

On top of all this, the winter has proved more severe than usual, and cold added its horrors to the suffering of the peasants. An American investor got tales of passing through village after village where only five or ten houses remained alive. The local authorities are helpless and in many instances slowly starving to death themselves.

Civil war affects thousands, but famine affects millions. It is the great problem which from a humanitarian standpoint China is called upon to face. Yet the situation is virtually hopeless. Temporary relief may prolong a few lives, but it can do no permanent good. Not until the country is stabilized with peace and order firmly enforced, a net-work of modern roads built, vast dams and irrigation works constructed and the peasants taught to utilize every means at their disposal to increase and conserve their crops will there be any chance that famine will be overcome.

In the meantime millions of people are starving and millions more will starve year after year. That is a side of China of which we may hear little, but which is of far larger extent than the China of extra-territoriality and foreign concessions. — New York Evening Post.

Ancient Finger Prints

Were Used Centuries Ago In Orient As Signature

Finger prints were taken centuries back in China and Japan. They were then used as a means of signing documents, although nowadays they are generally taken as a method of identifying criminals.

A finger print, taken on paper by means of printing ink, from a human finger shows markings peculiar to that person by the lines on the skin. The arrangement of these lines is the same all through life, and no two persons have the same marking.

No Time Lost

An Italian business man, known for rigorous allegiance to his duties, was asked how he found time to go to the movies with his wife almost every week.

"Well, you see, it's this way: I find it doesn't take any more time to go to the beach than the story of the thing after my wife returns."

Astronomer Says Moon Moves Earth's Crust

Gravitational Pull Shifts Surface Six Feet Is Estimate

That the earth's crust actually shifts as a result of the gravitational pull of the moon on the earth was a theory advanced in a paper written by Dr. Harlan T. Stetson, and read before the American Astronomical Society at Harvard College. He is the director of Perkins Observatory at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Dr. Stetson's was the study of the variation in latitude with the moon's position. While movement of the earth's crust has long been known to scientists, it was believed to be too slight for measurements. Observations analyzed by Dr. Stetson showed, however, that the change of position may amount to five or six feet or more.

Changes in the position of the moon, Dr. Stetson's paper pointed out, produce a change in the direction of gravity, causing the shift in the earth's crust and thus the variation of latitude.

Diplomacy Used By Jewish Scholar To Win Prize

There was a Scotsman who was appointed Inspector of schools, and in this capacity he was sent to inspect a Jewish school. His examination was the greatest man the world had ever produced. After a pause a little Jewish scholar put up his hand, and declared that the greatest man was Robert Burns. This reply gained him the prize that was offered. After the examination the inspector asked the lad if he really thought Robert Burns was the greatest man, to which the reply came: "Moses was the greatest man, but business is business."

ALBERTA MOUTH HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Alberta already occupies a very enviable position among the provinces of Canada from the standpoint of matters of health and the education of the people in matters pertaining to their physical well-being. Now it is proposed that the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council, working in co-operation with the Provincial Departments of Health and Education, the Alberta Dental Association and the Alberta Red Cross Society, will carry the gospel of preventive dentistry to every man, woman and child in a province-wide campaign commencing February 17th, 1930.

The most important time in the development of human teeth is before birth and during the first seven years of the child's life. Almost one hundred per cent. of the children and adults of today have decayed teeth and these are the primary causes of most of the serious diseases. In fact we have given our teeth too little concern.

Preventive dentistry does not mean visits to the dentist's office. It means correct habits of living, balanced diet and proper attention to mouth cleanliness and oral hygiene. Speakers who can deal with these matters authoritatively will bring to the people of the Province what the scientists have discovered with regard to the importance of the care of the teeth of the growing child.

WHY NOT U.S. HONEY?

During the past several weeks, Alberta weekly newspapers have been approached by the Alberta Development Board for their support in a campaign designed to influence consumers in favor of "Made in Alberta" products. The campaign is a worthy one and the Alberta Development Board is a live organization. But, we would call that organization's attention to the inconsistency displayed by one of Alberta's leading producers.

While at breakfast this morning, we reached for the honey jar. It was a very attractive container and we confess a liking for honey—good honey; the kind that is produced in Alberta by the Riedell people. And that little glass jar of honey was purchased in preference to other brands, because it was produced in Alberta. But, imagine one's chagrin when a glance at the label disclosed the fact that it was "Printed in U.S.A." There are a hundred printing plants in Alberta which might have produced that label and improved upon its design, but the producer who is catering to the Alberta consumer steps across the international border and buys a foreign label to advertise his product, which he hopes to sell in the home market.

Straws point which way the wind blows and this little incident is but a sample of the inconsistency of many Canadian manufacturers when it comes to purchasing labels, wrappers and containers. And now, can we be criticized if we are converted to the use of United States honey?—Hanna Herald.

'HELP! HELP! LLOYD'S FIRST TALKIE WORDS

"Help! Help!" That's the first line of dialogue recited by Harold Lloyd for public entertainment. But it goes back nearly twenty-five years, and has nothing to do with his first all-talking picture, "Welcome Danger," at the Orpheum, February 20, 21 and 22, except that it started him on a stage career which led to his connection with motion pictures.

"It was at Beatrice, Neb., in 'Macbeth' that I first set foot on the stage itself. A Shakespearean repertoire company, bridging the gap from Omaha to Denver with one night stands, stepped off for an evening. Such troupes always picked up their supers and children locally. Gaylord, my brother, who was a proper boy and handy man at the opera house, promptly nominated the kid brother to fill one of the breaches. There are three parts in 'Macbeth' which might be played by a boy, and my memory is hazier than usual, but apparently I was Fleance, Banquo's son and witness to his murder, for I recall coming on the left of the stage with a man who seems to have been my father and running off right alone and crying 'Help! Help!' I had been drilled that afternoon to continue the cry from the wings; but my voice, which had been vocal enough on stage, froze with embarrassment in the presence of the off-stage company and one of them had to take up the cry where I left off."

With that kind of background, it is not surprising no stories have been issued from the Lloyd studio telling how the comedian "froze with fright" when he made his debut before the microphone.

A PRAYER FOR EDITORS

This is the "invocation" delivered by Rev. T. D. Bateman of the First Presbyterian Church, Columbus, Miss., at the annual convocation of the Mississippi Press Association held in that city.

"External God, our Heavenly Father, we ask the blessing upon the newspaper people who are wont to communicate with the ends of the earth. They are people who can smell a revolution in China, people who have license to enter the gate of princes and potentates, but who will have a mighty hard time getting inside the gates of Paradise.

"Have mercy on these people who are tempted by every devil, from the printer's devil to the devils of headlines, and these same who are so busy listening to the sounds of the wires and the songs of women that oftentimes the voice of God finds no listener among them and no place in their hearts.

"Have mercy, O Lord, upon the people who are chased by the Colonial Dames, W.C.T.U., Kiwanis and the Chambers of Commerce. Have mercy on these people who have to hobnob alike with Jew and Gentile, white and black, Democrat and Republican, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and Episcopalian, those who came over on the Oakflower.

"Have mercy, O Lord, on these people and help them in their dash from balloon to church social and back to rum-runners, and who have to associate with anything from Andy Mellon to Andy Gump. Any of them would run two miles for a good story.

Make this a good convention in the Friendly City. It's not an easy matter to break into the Pearly Gates. We pray thy blessing upon them. When they have done with newspapers here and stories and their careers are finished here, may they have a finer story for St. Peter than ever they had in newspapers here. And although it is so hard for newspaper men to get into Thy Kingdom, may they receive a warmer welcome at the Majestic theatre, at Lethbridge tomorrow night.

MINE WORKERS APPOINT
SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The appointment of a committee to consider fully the proposed regulations of the provincial government for control of mining in Alberta, featured the opening session of the Mine Workers' Union of Canada convention at Calgary on Monday.

The committee was appointed to deal with the draft amendments and suggestions in connection with the Coal Mines Regulations Act, which is being brought forward at the present session of the legislature.

Recommendations strongly opposing a number of clauses in the proposed new provincial mines act will be made by the committee. Chief objection will be expressed to the section which allows a classified list of miners into two classes, "A" and "B". This distinction, it is felt, will permit a system of sub-contract and other conditions which have been the cause of acute labor troubles in the past. Classification of this kind has been eliminated for some years in the industrial field, and the miners will use every possible effort to prevent its re-introduction by legislation.

Another feature of the act to which objection is taken is the right of operators to place restrictions on checkweighers, as the men feel that supervision of the kind is altogether unnecessary and improper in principle. Objection is also taken to clauses dealing with mine ventilation, the handling of explosives and the general conduct of underground work.

Members of the committee appointed were: A. Pruitt, Nordegg; S. Patterson, Blairmore; J. Dornan, Corbin; H. R. Barkhouse, Coaldhurst; J. H. Lowe, Lethbridge; W. Manning, Saunders Creek; W. Fife, Wayne; P. Barclay, Camrose; J. G. Michayuk, Leduc; M. Kluehn, Foothills; H. Williams, Nordegg; F. Ponech, Lethbridge, and H. Anderson, Standard Mine.

Two other committees appointed were:

MYSTERY, ROMANCE, PERIL, PASSION, IN
"ISLE OF LOST SHIPS"

No producers have dared to be so imaginative and succeed in being likewise so strikingly realistic and convincing as the producers of "The Isle of Lost Ships," since the time when the same company sponsored "The Lost World."

That, perhaps, explains why this First National-Vitaphone offering at the Orpheum theatre tonight, Friday and Saturday is so refreshing and thrilling. It takes a very striking romantic and dramatic situation, shipwrecks all the characters, and plunges them, drama, romance and all, into the world's still unexplored, enigmatic region—the Sargasso Sea.

For Virginia Valli and Jason Robards (the lovers of the story) and Robert O'Connor (who plays a detective), the Sargasso Sea proves to be inhabited. There's a little colony there under the rule of an ex-whaling ship captain, portrayed by Noah Beery. Fifty men and two women make up the colony.

While the story is sweepingly imaginative, unlike "The Lost World," it is based upon scientific fact. For this reason it is more likely to interest and entertain every sort of person. And the fine historical efforts of the actors, and the treatment given the plot by Director Irvin Willat, entitle it to first consideration by anyone, on the grounds of sheer entertainment quality.

"The Isle of Lost Ships" is a film about which we must repeat that oldest, most hackneyed admonition: "you can't afford to miss it." It's different. It's realistic, imaginative and adventurous. And above all, it is highly entertaining and you'll long remember how it held you spellbound.

Mrs. Fred Gilroy, of Bellevue, was at Creston last week end to attend the funeral of Miss Frances Handley.

Drumheller is the one and only place in the province that could report a good attendance at the annual meeting of ratepayers.

On Wednesday of last week, Coleman town councillors met at the home of Councillor J. Moores and made a presentation of a case of pipes to retiring Mayor Burns, as their personal tribute of appreciation of his service as mayor for the past number of years.

Just think of it: On a recent Sunday, Drumheller hockeysticks attended divine service and sought the prayers of the minister and congregation for their won't success—and practically right away they were declared winners of their league and qualified to go further.

Mrs. Cora Glendenning, of Coleman, grand chief of the Pythian Sisters of Alberta, paid an official visit to Crescent Temple at Drumheller last week. She will pay an official visit to Greenhill Temple No. 10 at Blairmore on the night of March 7th.

REAL COLLEGE ATMOSPHERE FOR "THE FORWARD PASS"

Eddie Cline, who directed the college story, "The Forward Pass," at the First National-Vitaphone studios, resents criticism that college pictures are never true to college life, but rather are always true to movie traditions.

Cline staged a college dance at the studio for the picture, which comes to the Orpheum theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next.

"If this dance isn't collegiate, then there isn't such a thing," said the director. "I had only college students in the scene. I had the University of Southern California orchestra playing for it, and the U.S.C. quartet singing. The set is the exact reproduction of a fraternity house, and the decorations were copied from a picture of their Christmas dance last year."

"The boys and girls were told to go ahead and stage one of their dances and I photographed it. If that isn't college atmosphere, show me some."

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Loretta Young are co-featured in the story, and they were carefully coached as to what collegiate at a college dance.

Upwards of 200 men are entombed and up to the time of going to press only a few have been reached, all dead. "THE TRIAL OF MARY DUGAN"

The first presentation in the Pass of "The Trial of Mary Dugan," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer all-talking screen version of Bayard Veiller's melodramatic stage hit, has been set for tonight, Friday and Saturday at Cole's theatre, Bellevue.

"Mary Dugan" can run for more than a full season at the National theatre in New York City, concluding its engagement on Broadway last summer. Before the end of its run, however, four domestic road companies had been organized and the success of the play outside of New York was fully as striking as its Broadway popularity. At the present time there are four road companies still touring the United States; with two in England, four in Germany, four in Holland, two in Norway and Sweden and one in France.

The picture has an all-star cast, headed by Norma Shearer; Lewis Stone, who has the part of Edward West, the defense attorney; H. B. Warner, that of the prosecuting attorney, and Raymond Hackett, who played the role of Jimmy Dugan on the stage and has the same part in the photoplay. Others in the cast include Oliver Lyon, Lynn Chapman, DeWitt Jennings, Mary Doran, Wilfrid North and others.

THE SCHOOLMARM

(By Walt Mason, Our Own Canadian Rhymster).

The teacher in the country school, expounding lesson, sum and rule, and teaching children how to rise to heights where lasting honor lies, deserves a fat and handsome wage, for she's a triumph of this age.

No better work than her's is done beneath the good old shining sun; she builds the future of the state; she guides the youths who will be great; she gives the childish spirit wings, and points the way to noble things.

And we do all things so well, and of our "institutio[n]s" yell, reward the teacher with a roll that brings a shudder to her soul. We have our coin done up in crates, and gladly hand it to the skates who fuss around in politics and fool us with their time-worn tricks.

In Blairmore some common jay will loaf a week, and draw more pay than some tired teacher, toiling near, will ever see in half a year. If I were running this old land, I'd have a lot of statesmen canned; politicians and folks like those, would have to work for board and clothes; I'd put the lid on scores of snaps, and pour into the teacher's lap the wealth that now away is sinned, for words and wiggle-jaws and wind.

THINK IT OVER

One thing which pleases the publisher of a newspaper immensely, says an exchange, is to have someone ask for a big boost for something and then try to beat the printer down on the prices of his work, or get it done somewhere else. If free boosts are wanted, it will be to remember they cost the publisher real money for typesetting and other expenses and, on that basis, the newspaper is entitled to all the printing business of its community, for it is ever called upon to boost many things without charge.

Bertie has relinquished his interest in the Coleman hotel and Mr. A. E. Guerard, who arrived last week, is the new proprietor.

From the Blairmore viewpoint, it was no great game with the Bearcats not bestirring themselves much more than the Fliers. They say that as a game it was not equal to some of the Pass league events of the season. That being the case, it is hard to work up any steam on the subject. Albia are a silly business. Besides the Blairmore boys are the real Bearcats and without doubt deserved their win. So the kindest thing that can be done is to denote the Fliers temporarily to some obscure corner of the public press. And in conclusion we say "Tut, tut"—High River Times.

Mighty Bridge Spans Saskatchewan

Truth in Canada's northern areas of resource becomes reality in the Canadian Pacific Railway bridge now nearing completion at Nipawin, Saskatchewan. Despite the fact that the bridge is to be built in a point extending from the more definitely agricultural section into the timber belt, it is of recognized magnitude. It will afford ready access to still unexploited farm lands and direct transportation possibilities for those who will explore and develop mineral areas rich in promise. This new gateway to the North required more than 8,146 million pounds of structural steel in its construction. Vehicular traffic will be carried in the space between the two main tracks. The first train will travel on the top. (1) shows the pile-drivers at work in 1928-1929. Milk Dealers Lose Millions Annually Through Unreturned Bottles

Do you use milk bottles for jam, kerosene, paint, and other household articles? Perhaps you use them for flower vases, or in numerous other ways. If they get too dirty, probably they are thrown out with the ashes or trash.

Such a procedure is far too common, say the Bureau of Dairy Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, and adds materially to the cost of producing milk. The annual milk-bottle bill of the nation is close to $30,000,000, the bureau says, and at least $20,000,000 of this is loss occurring after the bottles leave the dairy. Last year in one large city, junk men picked off the city dumps 20,000,000 milk bottles which had been thrown away. These bottles had a value of over $1,000,000.

SWOLLEN JOINTS GIVE GREAT PAIN

The Trouble Can Be Removed By Enriching the Blood Supply

The chief symptom of rheumatism is pain. Cold or damp weather may start the pain, but it is known to all who have suffered from it that watery blood. The most successful treatment is the one that restores the blood to a healthy, non-clotted condition. This can be done by taking Dr. Williams' Milk of Magnesia. It is said who says: "About two years ago I had a very severe attack of rheumatism. The trouble located chiefly in my right shoulder, and was so bad that often I would have to sit up in a chair, being unable to lie down. The pain, at times, was agonizing. I took Dr. Williams' Milk of Magnesia and these things did not happen again. Under the influence of the medicine the sides of the pain disappeared, and there has not since been any return of the trouble. I am very thankful for what Dr. Williams' Milk of Magnesia has done for me, and hope some other sufferer may benefit by my experience."

One can procure these pills from any dealer in medicines, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Immigration Problem

The subject of immigration, which is at present receiving a large share of attention by the people of Canada and causing them no little concern, has always been in the forefront of national policy. It is likely to remain so for many years to come, a result almost inevitable in the case of a young country of small population, vast unoccupied areas, and immense natural resources awaiting development. And especially so when, elsewhere in the world, there are numerous countries where population is already congested and the surplus peoples are anxiously looking abroad for some place in which to locate with a fair prospect of making a livelihood for themselves and their children.

It is probably true that in regard to no other question of vital national importance has public opinion in Canada, as in the United States, so completely changed within a few years as it has in regard to immigration. Within the last few years the change has been rapid and fundamental, and thousands of men and women today hold views diametrically opposite to those they entertained five or ten years ago. Many of these people are now inclined to blame former Governments because they adopted and pursued policies which do not find favor today, forgetting that they themselves believed in and approved policies then which they condemn now.

Not so long ago Federal Governments were applauded or criticized according as they succeeded or failed to increase the volume of immigration into this Dominion. Almost without a dissenting voice—organized labor alone perhaps excepted—the people of Canada urged and demanded aggressive policies of immigration in order to increase Canada's population, develop its resources, fill up the vacant spaces, and assist in carrying the Dominion's heavy burden or debt. Immigration was held to be necessary to provide business for our railways, and to reduce the per capita cost of government, schools, and those many other modern services which people demanded. And all governments tried to supply what the people as a whole wanted.

Now all this has changed; and from all parts of the country there is an instant demand that immigration be restricted, if not altogether stopped, and just as there were extremists in days gone by who favored a wide-open door of unrestricted entry, so now there are who would prohibit all immigration, from entering the portals of the Dominion. As is true of almost every question, there is in this matter of immigration a same and safe middle course.

Generally speaking, the opinion now prevails that all forms of assisted immigration should cease, or at all events should be strictly limited to individual cases of members of a family desirous of coming to Canada to join relatives already established here. The view is also held that there should be no more large movements of groups of people to be settled in communities. It is practically assured that these policies will be adhered to.

Canada's immigration policy has for some considerable time been one of admitting only those, mentally, morally and physically sound, who proposed to go upon the land, while those of the artisans and unskilled labor classes were discouraged. But the difficulty has been to keep those admitted on the land. Many having but little capital and meeting with initial discouragements and difficulties, have flocked to the cities in search of work, with dire results to themselves and to the urban communities thereby affected. How to overcome this problem, made more acute in recent years by the introduction on a large scale of labor-saving farm machines, as, for example, the combined harvester-thresher and the motor truck, and the consequent elimination of the need for thousands of farm hands, is still in acute question.

It is now suggested that the provinces should be given the power to admit those immigrants who are fit to go to the Provinces rather than to those of the major functions of the federal Government, and that each Province should decide what, how many, to admit in any one year. But here another difficulty presents itself. Provincial requirements and policies may be far from uniform. One Province may adopt a policy amounting almost to exclusion, while another is much more lax in its policy governing immigration. But once an immigrant is admitted into Canada by any one Province, there is no power to prevent such immigrant from moving to another part of the Dominion. There must of necessity be some understanding reached by the Provinces if any effective restrictions are to be imposed by them, if the present plan of a central Dominion control is superseded.

The whole problem is one calling for the most careful investigation and study. It involves not only economic questions, but social, racial, religious, and other questions, each and every one presenting difficulties in the way of arriving at common understandings. It is a question that calls for the exercise of patience, goodwill, co-operation.

Do you use milk bottles for jam, kerosene, paint, and other household articles? Perhaps you use them for flower vases, or in numerous other ways. If they get too dirty, probably they are thrown out with the ashes or trash.

Such a procedure is far too common, say the Bureau of Dairy Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, and adds materially to the cost of producing milk. The annual milk-bottle bill of the nation is close to $30,000,000, the bureau says, and at least $20,000,000 of this is loss occurring after the bottles leave the dairy. Last year in one large city, junk men picked off the city dumps 20,000,000 milk bottles which had been thrown away. These bottles had a value of over $1,000,000.

SWOLLEN JOINTS GIVE GREAT PAIN

The Trouble Can Be Removed By Enriching the Blood Supply

The chief symptom of rheumatism is pain. Cold or damp weather may start the pain, but it is known to all who have suffered from it that watery blood. The most successful treatment is the one that restores the blood to a healthy, non-clotted condition. This can be done by taking Dr. Williams' Milk of Magnesia. It is said who says: "About two years ago I had a very severe attack of rheumatism. The trouble located chiefly in my right shoulder, and was so bad that often I would have to sit up in a chair, being unable to lie down. The pain, at times, was agonizing. I took Dr. Williams' Milk of Magnesia and these things did not happen again. Under the influence of the medicine the sides of the pain disappeared, and there has not since been any return of the trouble. I am very thankful for what Dr. Williams' Milk of Magnesia has done for me, and hope some other sufferer may benefit by my experience."

One can procure these pills from any dealer in medicines, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Author Urges Wider Knowledge Of Canada

American Novelist Regrets Peculiar Ideas People in the United States Have

Returning from a visit to Churchills' Hudson Bay, the northeastern terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway, Courtney Riley Cooper, American novelist, in an interview at Toronto, urged a wider knowledge of Canada in the United States. Mr. Cooper regretted that so many peculiar impressions of Canada had become prevalent.

"The people of the United States are under the impression that Canada is a land of barren, desolate, frozen wastes," he said, adding that when he was a reporter on a Chicago paper he suffered from the cold in the Hudson Bay country.

"The minute I went into the north country I became sold on Canada and decided to make my lifework the selling of Canada to the U.S. people through books," he said.

He highly commended the Canadian press and said, "The Canadian and U.S. citizen are blood brothers."

Caramel Pudding

A Delicious Dessert That Practically Makes Itself

One of the most delicious desserts one can serve, and it is one especially loved by children, can be said practically to make itself, and it is called Caramel Pudding. Here it is:

"Place an unopened can of Borden's Eagle Brand Condensed Milk in a kettle of boiling water and simmer for two and a half hours, being careful not to let the kettle boil dry. Remove can, cool and chill. Remove top on can, cut along the side of the can — not the top — so that the contents may be removed whole; place a serving dish and garnish with broken nut meats, and whipped cream. To serve individually, cut in slices, garnish with nut meats, and whipped cream—or use plain unsweetened cream, or with without garnish."

Miller's Worm Powders will purge the stomach and intestines of worms effectively and so easily and painlessly, that the most delicate stomach will not feel any inconvenience from their use. They are recommended especially to mothers. They will restore strength and vigor to their children and protect them from the debilitating effects which result from the depredations of worms.

Heirs To Vast Estate

Nine Widows and Thirteen Children Share In Estate Of Abdul Hamid

A London despatch to the New York Times states that nine surviving widows and 13 children of Abdul Hamid, Sultan of Turkey, who was deposed in 1909, have obtained after five years legal battle $50,000,000 from his $1,500,000,000 estate.

Greece, it was reported in London, offered $50,000,000 to Abdul's former harem favorites now living in poverty in various capitals of Europe. The Aegean Financial Trust, Ltd., of London, hopes to get for them $1,000,000,000 from Iraq, Abdul, who died in prison in 1918, was said by some to be the richest man in the world. A number of British and United States financiers have backed the contention of his heirs that confiscation of his properties during and after the Great War was illegal. Greece's offers concern properties acquired from Turkey under post war treaties.

Product Of Uncle Tom's Cabin

Nine ounces of dried seed and 1,278 blooms from one nasturtium seed, is the proud record of Gordon Thomas, Royston, B.C. Mr. Thomas saved the seed from plants grown in his own garden in 1928, and on March 10, 1929, it was planted in a favorable location on the south side of his house. The plant was given special attention and bloomed continuously until November 11, and grew to a height of 14 feet 4 inches.

The revised version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" according to Clyde D. Mors, of the Ohio State Journal, probably will have Eliza crossing the river on an electric refrigerator.

Glass That Bends

Nearest Approach Is a Glass Substitute Called "Windolite".

There is a fortune awaiting the man who invents a flexible glass. This stands perhaps at the head of the list of necessary things the world is waiting for. So far the nearest approach is a glass substitute called "Windolite," invented in England, and put on the market there in 1917, and now sold in Canada. "Windolite" consists of a cellulose acetate compound reinforced with fine, specially galvanized wire mesh. It is so dipped in the solution to coat the wire mesh thoroughly on both sides and the resulting substance is therefore completely waterproof, airtight, flexible and practically unbreakable.

One advantage of the substitute has to do with ordinary glass, in that it transmits the valuable ultra-violet rays of the sun. This quality makes "Windolite" invaluable for a wide variety of uses where real sunlight is necessary to health and growth such as the rearing of young chicks and turkeys in confinement. Ordinary glass shut out these rays, and yet they are vitally important to human beings, as well as plants, poultry and live stock. Another surprising use about this glass substitute is that it is cheaper than ordinary glass, and yet extremely light in weight and very strong.

Old Marriage Contract

Drawn Up By Egyptian Husband and Dated 590 B.C.

Marriage contracts were in vogue among early Egyptians, according to tablets found in the Nile region by explorers. The earliest known nuptial contract there dated from 590 B.C., the terms of which were drawn by the husband, and had been translated as follows: "Since God will that we should unite one with another in righteous wedlock, after the manner of every free man and every wise woman, therefore I have given thee four dollars in gold as a bridal gift. And for my part I will not neglect thee. Neither shall I put thee forth without a cause, having legal ground. But should I wish to put thee forth, I will pay 17 dollars for the matter."

Measuring Star's Brightness

With a photo-electric photometer such as the one attached to the telescope at the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa, it is possible to measure the brightness of a star to within one percent of its true value. This instrument is used mainly for determining the changes in the brightness of variable stars.

DECLARER NEXT 50 YEARS BELONG TO THIS DOMINION

Washington, D.C.—"I think the next 50 years belong to Canada," said Sir Ernest Howard.

The British ambassador, soon to retire, returned from his farewell visit to the Dominion obviously reinvigorated and full of admiration.

"It was delightful to visit your country again and renew old acquaintanceship," he said.

Discussing the economic future of Canada, Sir Ernest remarked that unlike less fortunate countries the Dominion's eggs were not all in one basket. He foresaw the industrialization of the country with the development of hydro-electric power sources, "in which you are wealthier than any other land. There would be an advantage in industry with the use of fast and varied resources and proportionate and necessary increase in agricultural production."

Expressing a particular interest in the opening up of Hudson Bay, Sir Ernest said he wished he had been able to visit that part of the country as well as the Cobalt District.

With obvious pride the ambassador then spoke of the Dominion's nationality, and said he had noted with a thrill of interest the national spirit of the Canadians which, inherently British, ever grew and strengthened. He observed also the breadth of the Canadian outlook reflected in the press where prominence was given to world and imperial affairs.

J. G. Gardner, Liberal leader and former Premier, was also accorded a hearty welcome when he entered the chamber long before the opening hour.

Proposed legislation by the Anderson government was outlined in the speech from the throne read by Lieutenant-Governor H. W. Newlands. The speech made reference to the natural resources, expressing confidence in the near future "our province will be called upon to administer these resources in the best interests of our people."

Attempted Assassination

New President Of Mexico Is Wounded In the Jaw

Mexico City.—Pascual Ortiz Rubio, new president of Mexico, was wounded in the jaw by a would-be assassin who fired on him a few hours after he had been sworn in as chief executive.

It was announced at the hospital that the president's condition was not serious. The bullet was removed.

Six shots were fired. Two other rounds of the president's party were struck, the president's wife being grazed by a bullet and his little niece, Opelia Ortega, sustaining a slight wound. A bystander was also hit.

The assailant was arrested.

Motor cycle police pounced upon the shooter and took him into the national palace. The prisoner gave his name as Miguel Flores, aged 22. He acknowledged that he was an adherent of Juan Vasconcelos, candidate of the anti-revolutionary party who was defeated by Ortiz Rubio for the presidency.

WILL ADVOCATE REDUCTION OF MILITARY FORCES

London, England.—An international disarmament conference dealing with land as well as sea forces after the five-power conference has been completed, was predicted by Premier MacDonald.

The Prime Minister, replying to a question as to whether he would consider calling a conference of the great powers with a view to a reduction of military forces, pointed out that the disarmament problem, including land forces, had been under careful consideration by the League of Nations for some time.

"I hope that at the conclusion of the five-power conference a further meeting of the preparatory committee on disarmament will be held which will enable the next assembly of the league to arrange for summoning an international disarmament conference," he said.

Abolition of submarines will be favored by Great Britain at a public plenary session of the naval disarmament conference which will be held next week.

The highest authority stated that Great Britain, the United States, and Japan expected to reach a tentative agreement within a few days for reduction of capital or battleships now existing in those countries' navies.

This source stated the U.S. had submitted four detailed proposals to Great Britain and Japan. While the details were not disclosed it was predicted that the proposed reductions would show the 5-5-3 battleship ratio established at the Washington conference. It was said, however, that the proposed compromise from the three nations would be only tentative, the United States contending that it was contingent upon the settling of the cruiser question.

The general problem of battleships is being negotiated now between the delegations of the three countries.

The general attitude of the three delegations is believed to be that there are prospects of realistic acceptance, although thus far no agreement between any two.

The British capital ship total now stands at 20. The United States has 18 of the big ships and the Japanese 10. These limits were set by the Washington conference. Members of the French delegation expressed their approval of the proposed agreement and said they would be in accord with such development.

Eight years ago Mr. Larkin's entry to the diplomatic corps was made to the high commissioner's office a memorial service was held at Christ Church, Lancaster Gate, adjoining the Larkins residence. The Bishop of Kensington conducted the service.

When Canada House was opened by His Majesty a few years ago, a new register for visitors was installed. The first entry reads: "Peter Larkin, Toronto, and in the column where the visitors record the probable length of their stay in London appears the word 'Indefinite' in Mr. Larkin's handwriting."

London, England.—Potato growers in the British Isles, particularly in Ireland, are suffering from a market glut, while the price of potatoes is high in Canada, a deputation of members of parliament emphasized when they interviewed Rt. Hon. Noel Buxton, Minister of Agriculture.

The general attitude of the three delegations is believed to be that there are prospects of realistic acceptance, although thus far no agreement between any two.
